I'm Hume de Bruyn, I'm an Architectural Designer from South Africa. I've been doing architectural design for the past 7 years, and have designed and visualized many projects that have been constructed to date. I take pride and joy in my work, in order to help design and visualize building projects, be it residential or commercial, to clients' satisfaction.

I believe it's always a process, where things can change, as they often do while working together with the client in order to reach the desired end result. In the end, it is, after all, you, the client's, vision that should be realized.
